

Aligning environmental and social values

OPPORTUNITY

One of Canada's largest development capital funds believes investors should not only consider the carbon profile of companies while transitioning to a low carbon economy in a portfolio, but also their broader, social, and governance impacts.

SOLUTION

We created the MSCI World Low Carbon ESG Target Screened Index which integrates carbon and extensive environmental, social and governance ratings into a single index construction process.

OUTCOME

This new index will be an important input into their efforts to reduce their carbon footprint, while taking into consideration how an energy transition can be equitable for all workers and communities - a growing strategic focus for many Canadian institutional investors.
