

Fundamental Review of the Trading Book (FRTB)

Featuring: Thomas Moser, Executive Director, MSCI Analytics

Thomas:

My name is Thomas Moser. I work at MSCI as a product manager in charge of our regulatory reporting offering. I started my career about 15 years ago in the financial software industry working as a consultant in market risk helping Austrian clients to implement market risk solutions. I then moved on to work as a financial engineer, again, for banking clients on counterparts credit risk and became a product manager about 10 years ago.

MSCI has been working on FRTB since 2012. Our research team responded to all consultations from the BCBS, and we have worked with clients to answer qualitative impact studies. MSCI has participated in several industry events, and we have hosted our own risk and regulation round tables over the last couple of years. We released the regulatory capital module for RiskManager in 2017 and have recently updated it with the final amendments from BCBS and EBA.

One observation I have made over the last couple of years is that several of our clients who are on an internal model for market risk today are seriously considering to move to the revised standardized approach under the Fundamental Review of the Trading Book.

That's a very good question. A question I, as a product manager, think about all the time. Thank you very much for asking it! I'd say that MSCI as a company for the sell-side is very unique because we're hosting our application since more than 15 years. This makes the implementation and maintenance of the solution for our clients very efficient. Furthermore, our subscription-based commercial model aligns the interests of MSCI very closely to the interests of our clients. Clients, as part of the subscription, get access to a dedicated consultant, as well as our client service team.

Specifically to the FRTP module, I'd say that, number 1, it's based on a very mature risk management solution which covers more than 100 pricing models across all asset classes, including dedicated pricing models for structured products.

It also offers great transparency into the analytical calculation processes, as well as the data used, which is necessary for the clients to be confident in insights the solution provides.

It also enables clients to fine-tune their assumption at the configuration of the model to their own needs, and as well as interpretation of the rules.

Finally, we keep client implementation very efficient because the solution is provided as a hosted solution, and it covers both the analytic aspects, as well as the data aspect of the requirements.

If you'd like to learn more about the MSCI solution for the Fundamental Review of the Trading Book, you can simply go to the MSCI website, MSCI.com where you can access additional material from our research, more videos on our FRTB solution as well as a fact sheet. Furthermore, you have the possibility to contact us. We will be very happy to provide a live demonstration of the product to you.

The Information should not be relied on and is not a substitute for the skill, judgment and experience of the user, its management, employees, advisors and/or clients when making investment and other business decisions. All Information is impersonal and not tailored to the needs of any person, entity or group of persons.

None of the Information constitutes an offer to sell (or a solicitation of an offer to buy), any security, financial product or other investment vehicle or any trading strategy.

It is not possible to invest directly in an index. Exposure to an asset class or trading strategy or other category represented by an index is only available through third party investable instruments (if any) based on that index. MSCI does not issue, sponsor, endorse, market, offer, review or otherwise express any opinion regarding any fund, ETF, derivative or other security, investment, financial product or trading strategy that is based on, linked to or seeks to provide an investment return related to the performance of any MSCI index (collectively, "Index Linked Investments"). MSCI makes no assurance that any Index Linked Investments will accurately track index performance or provide positive investment returns. MSCI Inc. is not an investment adviser or fiduciary and MSCI makes no representation regarding the advisability of investing in any Index Linked Investments.

Index returns do not represent the results of actual trading of investible assets/securities. MSCI maintains and calculates indexes, but does not manage actual assets. Index returns do not reflect payment of any sales charges or fees an investor may pay to purchase the securities underlying the index or Index Linked Investments. The imposition of these fees and charges would cause the performance of an Index Linked Investment to be different than the MSCI index performance.

The Information may contain back tested data. Back-tested performance is not actual performance, but is hypothetical. There are frequently material differences between back tested performance results and actual results subsequently achieved by any investment strategy.

Constituents of MSCI equity indexes are listed companies, which are included in or excluded from the indexes according to the application of the relevant index methodologies. Accordingly, constituents in MSCI equity indexes may include MSCI Inc., clients of MSCI or suppliers to MSCI. Inclusion of a security within an MSCI index is not a recommendation by MSCI to buy, sell, or hold such security, nor is it considered to be investment advice.

Data and information produced by various affiliates of MSCI Inc., including MSCI ESG Research LLC and Barra LLC, may be used in calculating certain MSCI indexes. More information can be found in the relevant index methodologies on www.msci.com.

MSCI receives compensation in connection with licensing its indexes to third parties. MSCI Inc.'s revenue includes fees based on assets in Index Linked Investments. Information can be found in MSCI Inc.'s company filings on the Investor Relations section of www.msci.com.
