RiskMetrics HedgePlatform helps investors to better manage their hedge fund investments using analytics calculated on the position-level holdings of each fund. Over 75 leading hedge fund investors, allocating over $1.5 trillion USD to hedge funds, use RiskMetrics Hedgeplatform as an integral component of their best practice investment, risk management, and governance processes.

The service has three components: 1) HedgePlatform collects holdings data of hedge funds, in most cases directly from administrators; 2) the positions are modeled in the state-of-the-art RiskMetrics system; 3) investors analyze funds, individually and in aggregate, using interactive web-based tools.
