

MSCI® client communication

MSCI Email Address Change

MSCI will be changing its email address from @ms.com to @msci.com, effective February 12, 2001.

All messages sent from MSCI will use the @msci.com address beginning on this date.

All messages sent to MSCI using the @ms.com address will still be received until April 30, 2001. On this date the @ms.com address will be completely decommissioned for incoming mail.

In addition, MSCI has also adopted the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) naming convention of First.Last@msci.com.

Please make the necessary changes to any automated email program that filters the @ms.com address by February 12, 2001. Also, remember to update your personal address books.
